A NATION'S BIRTH

REPUBLIC OF CUBA FORMALLY
INAUGURATED AMID IM-POSING SCENES.

ISLAND DELIRIOUS WITH JOY

DRAMATIC SPECTACLE AS THE CUBAN FLAG GOES UP ON THE PALACE.

GENERAL WOOD DEPARTS

MAGNIFICENT FRIENDLY DEMON-STRATION AS HE LEAVES
THE CAPITAL.

Havana, May 21.—The United States has redeemed her promise to the world. Havana and Santiago de Cuba were during the day evacuated by American troops, the reins of power were handed over to President Palma and now the government of Cuba is free and the whole island is delirious with joy.

Dramatic as was the remarkable demonstration when the flag of the United States was lowered and the flag of the new republic hoisted in its place at noon on the palace from whence Spain had ruled the island for centuries, it was hardly more stirring than the magnificent friendly demonstration which attended the departure of the cruiser Brooklyn as she sailed out of Havana harbor a few minutes before 4 o'clock p. m.

A flotilla of harbor craft loaded to the guards with people and dressed with bunting from stem to stern escorted her to sea. The Brooklyn had waited until the Ward line steamer Morro Castle and the tug Eagle sailed before weighing anchor. As became a commander, General Leonard Wood desired to be the last to leave. The Brooklyn's anchorage was near the wreck of the battleship Maine, whose black shrunken skeleton was decorated with American and Cuban flags by order of the city council. When the beautiful cruiser steamed slowly by this pitiful memory, the American ensign at her taffrail was dipped and the sailors generally doffed their caps. As she passed the grim walls of Cabanas and Morro castle, the Cuban colors on both fortresses were lowered three times in salute, although it is not military etiquette for a fort to salute except with guns. But an army four hours old is not expected to know this. General Wood stood on the bridge of the cruiser and acknowledged the ovation he received by bowing and touching his cap.

Enthusiasm Was Boundless.

The enthusiasm in the city was boundless. Many persons were literally mad with joy over their new born liberty. Firecrackers of the giant variety were exploded on the sidewalks and even in the cafes.

One hundred thousand visitors were said to be in the city and the police were utterly unable to cope with the joy-intoxicated people. As soon as the new government was installed congress met and proclaimed the constitution and appendix. President Palma reviewed 14,000 school children before the palace and at 4 o'clock he went to the cathedral, where a te deum was sung for the new republic. President Palma then devoted an hour before dinner to attending some urgent matters, among which was the postal relations with the United States. By his direction Washington was informed that Cuba would like to continue the present arrangement temporarily.

In the evening the city was illuminated as never before and a great pyrotechnic display was given on the walls of Morro castle and Cabanas across the bay.

The first demonstration occurred at about 11 o'clock when eight dismounted troops of the Seventh cavalry under the command of Colonel Baldwin, marched into the plaza, preceded by the regimental band. The cavalrymen were and carried carbines. They formed in three sides of an oblong square, facing the palace, their center resting on the statue of King Ferdinand. The greeting the American soldiers received was cordial, but real enthusiasm was first manifested upon the appearance of two batteries of native artillery, who, coming up at double quick time, wheeled into line and grounded arms in the street directly below the balconies of the palace. The maneuver was executed smartly, and the crowd cheered with pride.

Shortly afterwards the guests began to arrive and a state occasion of a first class European power could not have commanded more ceremony. Officers of the army and the navy of the United States, officers of Italian and English warships in the harbor, as well as foreign consuls, were arrayed in all the splendor of their full uniforms. The British consul general, Lionel Edward Greshley Carden, who has been appointed minister to Cuba, wore the embroidered diplomatic uniform of his rank. The Chinese consuls came in flowing silks, the judges in their ermine and the archbishop of Havana in the purple robes of his high ecclesiastical office. General Maximo Gomez, the idol of the Cuban people, with his hawk-like head and shoulders erect in spite of his 78 years, came attended by some of his old companions in arms.

The transfer occurred exactly at noon. The ceremony was brief and simple. General Wood and Senor Palma faced each other. General Gomez stood immediately behind his future president, in an open space around which clustered the other witnesses of

The Birth of the Republic.

Mr. Bryan was in the front row of spectators. In a low but clear voice General Wood read his letter turning over the island to the Cuban government. General Wood then handed Senor Palma President Roosevelt's letter. President Palma, who hardly reached to General Wood's shoulder, had patiently listened to the reading, and he immediately replied in Spanish, reading, as General Wood had done, the formal acceptance of the conditions imposed.

The president's voice rose until it rang through the chamber as he declared his government accepted the responsibilities of sovereignty.

The formal transfer was now over, but President Palma added a few words in English expressive of his deep sense of gratitude to the American government and of his personal thanks to General Wood, to which the latter responded in a most cordial spirit. Then came the congratulations. Everybody crowded about the new president to shake his hand and wish him success. General Gomez embraced him according to the Spanish custom. There were tears in the eyes of many persons present and many of the Cubans hugged each other for joy.

In the meantime there transpired a scene outside the palace to stir the pulses and live forever in the memory of those who witnessed it. For one hour before noon a hundred thousand people had stood with eyes floating over the palace. Every balcony, window, door and street around the plaza and every roof, even those a mile away, which commanded a sight of the flagpole, was thronged with humanity. As the time approached for the flag to be lowered several premature demonstrations occurred. Bells rang, steam sirens in the harbor shrieked and rockets and aerial bombs were exploded. But these were mere whispers compared with the volume of sound which burst forth when the American flag came down at 12:10. When the signal was given that the ceremony inside was over, the halcyons were loosed and the American colors floated slowly down. The American cavalry below saluted and the cavalry band played "The Star Spangled Banner." A roar which rolled over the entire city went up from the populace and like an echo came the distant boom of one of the great guns at the Cabanas fortress across the bay, the first of forty-five such detonations, one for every state in the Union. The American flag had been lowered at Cabanas and from Morro and the other forts around the city simultaneously with the one over the palace. Then all the bells in the city added to the din. Giant firecrackers were exploded until a pall of smoke arose over the city. All this was kept up for five minutes until the Cuban flag was hoisted. As it blew free over the palace and rose on the forts to the south of the assembled thousands that cheer was redoubled again. The guns of Cabanas spoke this time with the national Salute of Twenty-one Guns.

The United States cruiser Brooklyn and the English and Italian warships in the harbor set the flag of the new republic at the main and also saluted it with 21 guns. The Cuban bands stationed on the plaza, at Malcon, Morro and in other places in the city, blazed forth in pride of their country, while the guns of the ships thundered the strength of war.

But it was the demonstration of the people that overshadowed all the rest. Their vivas were like the roars of the ocean. They rose and fell. Women waved handkerchiefs, fans and parasols. Men jumped up and down for joy and everybody embraced his neighbor. Tears flowed from many eyes, but the shouting did not cease. The crowds shouted vivas for the United States, for President Palma, for General Gomez and for General Wood, and it was 10 minutes before the storm of sound began to subside and there was another wild roar as General Wood and the American officers left the palace for the pier.

Departure of General Wood.

In the meantime the troops of cavalry in the plaza had quietly marched to the wharf and embarked on the Ward line steamer Morro Castle. General Wood and his aides were escorted to the pier by President Palma, the entire cabinet, the Cuban congress and the consular corps. They were also accompanied by the best Cuban band in Havana. The demonstration they received along the route was remarkable and left no doubt of the gratitude and good will of the Cubans toward the Americans. General Wood and the officers then entered the steam launch and were taken across the bay to the Brooklyn.

As General Wood climbed up the side of the cruiser and set foot on her deck, the marine guard on board was paraded and the former governor general of the island was given a salute of 21 guns.

STONES FALL LIKE HAIL

People of Fort de France Become Excited and Rush Through the Streets in Scant Attire, Many Embarking on the Vessels in the Harbor—Fears Felt for the Safety of the Soldiers at Le Carbet.

Fort de France, May 21.—At 5:30 a. m. a thick, heavy cloud, lit up by flashes of lightning and the rising sun, rose from Mont Pelee. The people of Fort de France at once became panic stricken and in scant attire rushed excitedly through the streets of the town. Stones from the volcano as big as hazel nuts fell in the streets. Many of the inhabitants hurriedly embarked on the vessels in the harbor, and it was with difficulty that they were eventually reassured. At 7 o'clock, however, the excitement was over and the people became calm.

The phenomenon was similar to the eruption of Thursday, May 8, but not so severe.

Governor L'Huerre will leave here on the French cruiser Suchet to inform himself of the situation at St. Pierre.

The cloud which issued from Mont Pelee was composed of cinders. It is estimated that 20,000 people rushed into the streets of the town, shrieking and praying.

A tidal wave has destroyed a portion of the village of Le Carbet.

A number of inhabitants of Fort de France have embarked on the available vessels of the harbor and intend to seek refuge on the island of Guadeloupe to the southward.

It was learned later that a whirlwind of fire descended on the village of Le Carbet and fears are entertained for the lives of the troops who were supposed to be in that village.

FRATERTVILLE MINE HORROR.

Eighty-two Bodies So Far Recovered From the Pit.

Knoxville, Tenn., May 21.—Eighty-two bodies have so far been taken from Fraterville mine at Coal Creek, the scene of the catastrophe in which the lives of 225 miners were blotted out. Ernest McDonald was taken alive at a late hour. He had fallen into a spring and was completely covered by water except half his face when found. He had entered the mine 15 minutes after the other men and his story of the explosion was told while his breath came in fitful gasps. It is impossible for him to live more than a few hours, for he is horribly mangled. Both arms were twisted from his shoulders, both eyes blown out and both thighs broken.

The coroner's inquest examined a number of witnesses, but did not complete its work. Fresh crews of rescuers went to work and will toil on unceasingly unless another explosion of fire damp, which is feared, occurs.

The cause of the disaster developed during the day when it became known that gas had collected in an abandoned mine close by into which an opening had been accidentally made last week by a work boy in a lateral shaft.

An attempt was made to stop up the opening, but it is believed that a leak remained.

Joel Smith returned from the north this morning.

Rev. N. P. Glemaker left for Little Falls this afternoon.

M. J. Andrews, of Bemidji, left for St. Paul at noon.

A. G. Trommald left for Aitkin today on land business.

Hon. A. F. Ferris left for St. Paul this afternoon on business.

Mayor Dawes, of Pine River, was a guest in the city today.

Lawyer Skinvik, of Bemidji, went through en route to St. Paul today.

G. D. LaBar returned yesterday from a business trip to the Twin Cities.

Mrs. Veigel and daughter, Miss Anna, left today for Minneapolis for a visit.

Master Mechanic Lyddon, of Staples, was in the city this morning on business.

Supt. George Cook, of the Brainerd Lumber company, returned from Bemidji this morning.

Allen Le Van and Mrs. Woodruff, brother and sister of Mrs. W. Rogers, left for Minneapolis today.

J. C. Raymond and Miss Belle Fadden were married Sunday afternoon by Rev. Carver at the parsonage.

Master Mechanic S. L. Bean has returned from Iowa, where he was called on account of the illness of his father.

R. G. Vallentyne has sold to J. H. Noble the house and two lots No. 512 7th St. north. Consideration $1100.

Jay O'Brien returned from St. Paul last night. He was one of the party that went to California from this city.

Supt. Vandersluice, of the Lake Superior division of the Northern Pacific, was in the city today on official business.

Mr. and Mrs. Con O'Brien left today for Berlin, Wis. Mr. O'Brien's old home, where they will visit for some time.

Mrs. A. Eastman met with an accident and broke her arm, while cleaning house. She is doing as well as can be expected.

E. H. Jerrard, the plumbing contractor of Bemidji, was in the city this morning between trains on his way to St. Paul on business.

Rev. J. G. Simon has arrived in the city from Wells, Minn., to accept the pastorate of the German Lutheran church in East Brainerd, succeeding Rev. B. Simon.

Ed. Johnson, who has been a switchman in the Northern Pacific yards in this city for sometime, left today for St. Paul, where he expects to go to work.

Miss Lena Falstrom died yesterday at the home of her parents eleven miles east of the city. She was a young girl about fifteen years of age and died of diphtheria.

Prof. Wilson don't want the teachers to forget the meeting at Deerwood next Saturday. A fare and one-third has been secured and there will doubtless be a large attendance.

An old portrait of President T. B. Walker, of the library board, was hung in the directors' room at the public library yesterday. It was painted by Freeman Thorpe, a resident of Hubert, and awaits the acceptance of the board.—Minneapolis Times.

W. H. Cleary, of the firm of Cleary, McGinnis & Hemstead, is quite an athlete, but his friends in this city never knew that he had aspirations to walk around the world or anything like that. He went down to Minneapolis on business recently and was headed for home last night, but the train on account of the rain did not get nearer than four miles to the city. He made a bluff to walk in but now he is sorry he spoke.

JOHN WILLIAMS DROWNED.

The Accident Happened at Ft. Totten, N. D., and the Address of His Relatives is Desired.

Postmaster Ingersoll this morning received the following letter from the superintendent of the Indian Industrial School, at Fort Totten, N. D., and it is published with the view of locating his relatives. Anyone knowing the man will confer a favor by leaving word at the postoffice or addressing at once the gentleman whose name is signed to the communication:

Yesterday John Williams, a carpenter who has been working here at the school for a few weeks, fell from the boat while returning from Devil's Lake and was drowned. In looking through his things for names of friends or family I found a letter written by Lawrence Williams then at Rigdon, Ind., and speaking of other persons at Fairmont, by which I take it that his home must be in or near Fairmont, Ind. He seems to have lived in and about Hope, N. D., and Brainerd, Minn., for the past ten years, working in the logging camps in winter, and doubtless in towns at his trade during summer. He was tall, dark complexion, heavy, straight mustache, and I should think about forty years old. He has evidently been given to dissipation much of his life, and is said to have been intoxicated when he fell from the boat and was drowned. He has no personal effects here except a few tools and some clothing. There is about $35.00 due him after paying his board.

I should like to be advised whether he has any family or friends living there, and if so the names of those nearest of kin. The body was not recovered yesterday, but search will be continued today, and it found before mail time will note it hereon.

Very respectfully,

GAYNOR AND GREEN.

United States Attorneys Confident Expectation Will Be Granted.

Quebec, May 21.—Colonel Gaynor and Captain Green are prisoners in the Quebec jail. They were committed to the prison during the afternoon, where Sheriff Langlier had prepared special quarters for them. Mr. Taschereau, counsel for Messrs. Gaynor and Green, notified the court that in a few days he will move for a writ of certiorari for the transmission of the record of arrest of his clients from Montreal to Quebec.

The next step to be taken by the attorneys representing the United States has not been disclosed, but it is said they are not discouraged by the present situation. They are confident that ultimately extradition proceedings will be successful and that Green and Gaynor will be forced to return to Savannah and stand trial on the charge of defrauding the United States government in connection with harbor contracts.

LISTEN TO ROOSEVELT.

President Addresses the Presbyterian General Assembly.

New York, May 21.—Carnegie hall was crowded to the doors with an audience eager to hear the address of President Roosevelt in the interest of Presbyterian home missions, the occasion marking the close of the centennial celebration. Many of the audience remembered that Presidents Cleveland and Harrison had made addresses from the same platform on the same subject.

In the parquette sat the commissioners of the general assembly, with as many of their friends as could be crowded in. Two tiers of boxes were filled with men and women who are leaders in metropolitan Presbyterianism and others interested in the meeting. There were about 400 men and women on the platform. There was not a vacant seat, not a bit of standing room left in the entire auditorium. Hundreds were turned away.

When President Roosevelt took his seat on the platform he received a great ovation. When the applause died away he took his seat between the Rev. Dr. Van Dyke and the Rev. D. Stuart Dodge, D.D., who was presiding.

In introducing President Roosevelt Dr. Dodge said that no man knew better than the president the importance to the nation of the good work of the home missions.

CONCENTRATION CAMPS.

Their Adoption in the Philippines Denounced in the Senate.

Washington, May 21.—The subject of the concentration of the inhabitants in the Philippines into camps was a leading topic of the discussion of the Philippine bill in the senate. Mr. Bacon of Georgia attacked the policy of concentration, likening it to the reconcentration camps established by General Weyer in Cuba.

Mr. Foraker of Ohio defended the action of the military authorities in establishing the camps in the Philippines as wise and proper and as a means of protecting friendly Filipinos from assassination at the hands of roving bands of insurgents. He read a description of the camps to show that they were really camps of instruction and sanitation.

Mr. Hoar of Massachusetts spoke briefly in line with Mr. Bacon, criticizing the concentration camps and pointing out the difficulty in getting army officers to testify regarding the situation.

The day's debate was closed by Mr. Clapp of Minnesota in an eloquent speech, in which he urged that the Filipinos ought to be taught to admire and respect the United States as a nation which always had stood for liberty and progress and never had broken its word to any people, great or small.

PUBLIC BUILDING BILL.

Senate Committee Increases the Appropriation.

Washington, May 21.—The senate committee on public buildings and grounds has reported the omnibus public building bill. As reported by Senator Fairbanks, the bill carries a net increase over the house measure of $2,535,700, making the aggregate appropriation of the bill $20,941,150. The appropriation for the New York custom house was increased from $1,000,000 to $2,500,000. The changes by states include the following:

Iowa—Muscatine, added $15,000; Marshalltown, $85,000 to $50,000; Boone, $100,000 to $50,000; Burlington, $20,000 to $40,000; Atlantic, $30,000 to $35,000.
Minnesota—Crookston, added, $75,000; Stillwater, $50,000 to $60,000; Montana—Butte, $50,000 to $125,000; North Dakota—Grand Forks, $125,000 to $180,000.
South Dakota—Yankton, added $7,500.
Wisconsin—Superior, $175,000 to $225,000; Fond du Lac, $60,000 to $65,000; Barabon, $35,000 to $70,000; Wausau, $50,000 to $60,000.

CUBA'S INDEPENDENCE.

House Passes a Resolution Congratulating the Island.

Washington, May 21.—For a third time within a week the house has instructed its conferees on matters of dispute between the senate and house. The instructions were given on amendments in the army appropriation bill before the conferees had even considered the matters in controversy. The motion to instruct was made by Mr. Cannon of Illinois, chairman of the appropriations committee. It was resisted by Mr. Hull, chairman of the committee on military affairs, and a spirited debate followed which developed antagonism between the committees. The amendment at which Mr. Cannon aimed was that which increased the appropriation for military posts from $3,000,000 to $4,000,000.

A resolution offered by Mr. Hitt, chairman of the foreign affairs committee, felicitating Cuba on her independence, was passed unanimously. A bill amending the passport law was passed. The remainder of the day was devoted to private claims bills.

ISTHMIAN CANAL ROUTE.

Senate Committee Opposes its Selection by the President.

Washington, May 21.—The senate committee on isthmiian canals has decided to report adversely Senator Hoar's bill placing the matter of the selection of an inter-oceanic canal route in the hands of the president. The measure was especially opposed by the supporters of the Nicaraguan route.

Iowa G. A. R. Encampment.

Des Moines, May 21.—The state G. A. R. encampment opened with a reception at the capitol during the afternoon. Governor Cummins received in his private office, through which thousands of visitors, including veterans and their families and out-of-town people passed. All the prominent men of the G. A. R. in Iowa were in line.

Small Cyclone in Minnesota.

Benson, Minn., May 21.—A small cyclone, starting three miles east, swept northwest between 5 and 3 p. m. and did considerable damage. Amund Miller, eight miles north, was killed by the collapse of his house.

SOMETHING IS LIABLE TO DROP

Unless a Move is Made in a Week or so Regarding the Opening of Reservation

A SENSATION MAY BE SPRUNG.

Said that Lumbermen are Trying to Prevent the Morris Bill From Becoming a Law.

Dispatches from Washington regarding the pending legislation for the opening up of the Chippewa Indian reservation would indicate that unless the matter is acted upon within a week or so, something sensational is promised by the friends of the Morris bill. One dispatch from Washington says:

"It is strongly intimated that a syndicate of lumbermen in Minneapolis and at one or two points outside the state, is trying to prevent the Morris bill from going through this session.

"The bill deals very liberally with the Indians, and would net them more than twice as much money for the sale of pine, as they would receive under the original Nelson act.

"It provides for competitive bidding for the pine at a minimum of not less than $6 per thousand, just double the minimum under the old law.

"In addition, the two bills mean the future salvation of Northern Minnesota. The large agricultural areas in both the Chippewas and Red Lake reservations are a drawback to the country so long as they remain in an undeveloped state. But when once opened, it means a great influx of immigration, the building up of new towns, and increased business for that entire section.

"It is claimed that the Minneapolis lumbermen do not want to pay the higher price for the pine, and that they wish to keep it out of the market at this time.

"Money is plenty now, and it would be a splendid investment to buy pine on the Chippewa reservation, and let it stand for say three to five years.

"Millions of dollars were made by Minneapolis lumbermen during the administration of Secretary Hoke Smith.

"Substantial evidence has been filed time and again to show that the bulk of pine purchased at that sale did not cost the lumbermen more than one dollar per thousand feet.

"There was no competition and the bidders went into combine and bought the pine at the minimum price at an estimate, which afterward turned out to be the most fraudulent and rotten affair ever occurring on the reservations.

"The land department is now holding back patents to pine lands, sold to some of those lumbermen a year ago last November, for the reason that the officials claim and have reported that there was a "pool" formed to keep the price down.

"Friends of the Morris and Clapp bills are determined to show up the real opposition, and the actual influence that are preventing the consideration of bills that mean so much for Northern Minnesota."

Unless a Move is Made in a Week or so Regarding the Opening of Reservation

A SENSATION MAY BE SPRUNG.

Said that Lumbermen are Trying to Prevent the Morris Bill From Becoming a Law.

Dispatches from Washington regarding the pending legislation for the opening up of the Chippewa Indian reservation would indicate that unless the matter is acted upon within a week or so, something sensational is promised by the friends of the Morris bill. One dispatch from Washington says:

"It is strongly intimated that a syndicate of lumbermen in Minneapolis and at one or two points outside the state, is trying to prevent the Morris bill from going through this session.

"The bill deals very liberally with the Indians, and would net them more than twice as much money for the sale of pine, as they would receive under the original Nelson act.

"It provides for competitive bidding for the pine at a minimum of not less than $6 per thousand, just double the minimum under the old law.

"In addition, the two bills mean the future salvation of Northern Minnesota. The large agricultural areas in both the Chippewa and Red Lake reservations are a drawback to the country so long as they remain in an undeveloped state. But when once opened, it means a great influx of immigration, the building up of new towns, and increased business for that entire section.

"It is claimed that the Minneapolis lumbermen do not want to pay the higher price for the pine, and that they wish to keep it out of the market at this time.

"Money is plenty now, and it would be a splendid investment to buy pine on the Chippewa reservation, and let it stand for say three to five years.

"Millions of dollars were made by Minneapolis lumbermen during the administration of Secretary Hoke Smith.

"Substantial evidence has been filed time and again to show that the bulk of pine purchased at that sale did not cost the lumbermen more than one dollar per thousand feet.

"There was no competition and the bidders went into combine and bought the pine at the minimum price at an estimate, which afterward turned out to be the most fraudulent and rotten affair ever occurring on the reservations.

"The land department is now holding back patents to pine lands, sold to some of those lumbermen a year ago last November, for the reason that the officials claim and have reported that there was a 'pool' formed to keep the price down.

"Friends of the Morris and Clapp bills are determined to show up the real opposition, and the actual influence that are preventing the consideration of bills that mean so much for Northern Minnesota."

The Heaviest Rain Accompanied by Wind That has been Seen in Many Years.

CONSIDERABLE DAMAGE DONE.

New Patek Building Gets Great
Set back—Cullen's Pop Factory Flooded.

The heavy rain of last night was a record breaker and never in the history of this part of the country have the people seen its like. This too on top of the rain of Saturday night and Sunday morning made it all the worse, as the gulches and ravines were all filled nearly to overflowing. Great torrents of rain fell from about six o'clock in the evening on to early morning hours, with only a short abatement at intervals during the night. It seemed more like a cloud burst, for everywhere on the streets there were rushing streams, which carried with it dirt and sand and left in its wake deep furrows, filling almost every crevice and nook. It was something terrific and with the great sheets of rain there was considerable wind that drove it on in a wild rush.

Measurements were taken this morning and it is estimated that about five or six inches fell during the night.

With this redundancy of water there was great damage done about the city and vicinity. Perhaps the greatest loss was to the new Patek building that is being erected on Seventh street south. The brick wall on the south side of the building was nearly half way up, but this morning the southwest corner, including some twenty feet of the wall had been washed in and reduced to a pile of debris.

Around this building the water seemed to have rushed in about the foundation and little by little penetrated the wall till a large opening was made and then the water that had gathered about the building and on the lots above rushed madly down into the basement. The foundation gave way and down came the wall. It is a desolate looking place this morning. It is estimated that the loss to this building will exceed $500, besides the loss of time that will be necessary now to complete the building. Contractor Olson had the work which he was doing by the yard so that Mr. Patek will not be the loser.

Drs. Hemstead and Reimstad also sustained heavy losses again last night. Both are building new residences, and during the rain of Saturday night both foundations were badly damaged and the rain again last night seemed to finish the job in good shape. The north wall of Dr. Hemstead's house was washed in this time as well as the south wall. The foundation of Dr. Reimstad's new house is almost a total ruin.

Considerable damage was done on Oak street at the culvert near the St. Paul track. This culvert was partially washed out and is in bad shape.

The trains which were due to reach the city this morning were late. The train from the east which is due here at about 12 o'clock did not get here until 5 o'clock this morning and the one due going east did not get here until after 8 o'clock. There are several washouts between this city and Staples, and the trains had to go around by the way of Little Falls and this of course caused a big delay.

Perhaps one of the most unfortunate results of the damage was at the Brainerd Bottling Works owned by James Cullen on 8th street. Here the water did all kinds of damage. The culvert to the east of that got clogged up, and the water backed up around the factory and this morning it was full nearly to the ceiling. Bottles and other stuff floated around on top of the water and there was a great sight to behold.

On Tenth street between Grove and Ivy there were some very bad washouts. Tom Sterup's small house at 606, Tenth street north, was so badly surrounded by water, that the south side of the foundation caved in completely and the occupant, George Dougherty, with his family, moved out at 11 p. m.

The Minnesota & International landing is badly washed out, and many places along the track are undermined by the water.

At the electric power house there was considerable damage done. The water rushed in there and played havoc, and the approaches to the new wagon bridge were badly hacked up although the bridge is still passable. Cellars all over the city are filled with water and those who did not sustain some loss are considered extremely fortunate.

The trains were all late this afternoon on account of the high water. The train from the west was several hours late.

There was considerable damage done at the Brainerd Lumber Co. mill, the track and sewerage being affected by the large amount of water, to the extent of about $200.

Nettleton, he don't rent. He sells for your rent money.

THIEF NAILED BY BRAKEMAN.

Quick Work is Made in Shoving Theo. Hartman Through the Mill Of Justice.

Yesterday afternoon Theo. Hartman had a hearing before Judge Blewitt on the charge of grand larceny and was held to the grand jury. Hartman, day before yesterday stole a suit of clothes belonging to C. A. Halverson, a brakeman on the Staples-Duluth passenger train. He got on the same train and attempted to get off at Deerwood but was nabbed by another brakeman, taken to Aitkin and held there until yesterday afternoon, when he was brought down to this city.

He told some conflicting stories, but was finally held. Now the brakeman is in a quandary. His clothes he cannot get until after the July term of court, as they will cut some figure in the case against Hartman. He also had to put up a bond of $100 to insure his appearance in this city against the defendant at the July term of court.

Workmen, own your homes! Nettleton will show you how.

JAIL BIRD MAKES GOOD HIS ESCAPE.

Daylight Did Not Prevent Lawrence Villiers From Sawing His Way Out of Jail.

WAS HELPED FROM OUTSIDE.

Was Held to the Grand Jury for Burglarizing the Con O'Brien Store Sometime Ago.

About the smoothest bit of cunning was exhibited this morning sometime between 9 and 10 o'clock at the county jail that has been chronicled for some time in the annals of criminal records, when Lawrence Villiers, who had been held to the grand jury on the charge of burglarizing the Con O'Brien store, broke jail and made good his escape. The dexterity and shrewdness was something unprecedented in this city and when Sheriff Erickson discovered that the man was gone, he was dumfounded, and he could not believe that a prisoner would take the chances to make his escape in this manner in broad daylight and that too on the front of the building from which point pedestrians on the street could see him at any time.

The man was in a cell all night as is the custom and was not let out in the lobby until after 9 o'clock this morning. This makes his escape the more miraculous. It leads to the suspicion that he was helped on the outside. William Rogers who was arrested with Villiers on the same charge was not held to the grand jury and the officers think that he was the man who assisted Villiers in making his escape. Two bars on the upper southeast corner window were sawed in two, slick and clean, and the man squeezed out of a hole that was not over ten inches square. He dropped from there to the ground and once on the street his escape was easy.

MUSIC AND DRAMA.

"WHEN REUBEN COMES TO TOWN"

"When Reuben Comes to Town" that comes to the Brainerd Opera House on Thursday evening is a new musical comedy that is a real comedy with bright lines, amusing situations and a real plot that is deftly worked out to a logically farcical conclusion. The musical setting is described as being far above the ordinary work of this kind from a musician's view point and yet tuneful, melodious and delightfully original. Messrs. Morris & Hall have provided a fine scenic and costume environment for the piece and a company of unusual excellence, including such popular actors as: Edwin Nicander, Douglass Flint, Edouard Durand, Margaret Sayre, Frank Beamish, Chas. Stanley, Ella Oby, Eleanor Page, Edna Hickey, Ruby Rothwell, Edythe Gibbons, Mildred Manners, Maude Coray, Nellie Victoria, Grace Von Brocklin, and others, constituting a comedy organization of thirty people.

"THE MISSOURI GIRL."

One of the most pretentious attractions which will be seen in Brainerd this season, is Fred Raymond's famous comedy, "The Missouri Girl," which will be presented at Brainerd Opera House Thursday, May 29th.

It is one of the most unique comedies ever brought to our city. It fairly bubbles over with fun, from beginning to end and affords an evening of rare amusement. Mr. Raymond presents some stage characters that are entirely different from those seen in other dramatic or comedy productions. He has not resorted to low, vulgar "gags," the comedy being clean, refined and at the same time exuberantly funny. A number of original ideas are brought out in such a clever manner as to bring forth an immense amount of laughter and applause.

Any Kind of a Cough is Bad.

But coughing up rent money every month is the worst of all, because it's so useless, when a home with all the comforts that make life worth living, can be bought and paid for with the same amount of money that it takes to pay rent. A reasonable payment down and the balance payable in small monthly payments, will buy some of the most desirable homes in the city. Let me show you some fine new ones, that will make you as comfortable and happy as a Prince, and sell at a handsome profit should you wish to sell at any time in the future.

A Nearly Fatal Runaway

Started a horrible ulcer on the leg of J. B. Orner, Franklin Grove, Ill., which defied doctors and all remedies for four years. Then Bucklen's Arnica Salve cured him. Just as good for Boils, Burns, Bruises, Cuts, Corns, Scalds, Skin Eruptions and Piles 25c at McFadden Drug Co., H. P. Dunn & Co., drug stores.

Some say that there was a freight train standing in the yards at the time and it is thought that he got away on this, but the sheriff does not think he got out before the train left. One of Z. LaBlance's men was working on the sidewalk near Si Hall's barn and the first note of warning that he heard came from Mrs. Erickson in the jail. It seems that the prisoners detected that the man had escaped and they gave the alarm to Mrs. Erickson. It was too late, however, as it is thought that he had been gone then some twenty minutes.

When he went to the window he had a red handkerchief in his hand and he said that he was going to hang it on the bars to dry. This he did do and left it there. When the prisoners saw the handkerchief there they thought nothing more about the matter and, of course, the fact that the bars had been cut was concealed in this manner.

Villiers is said to have been one of the toughest that the officers have had to do with for some time. He admitted on his preliminary hearing that he had served jail sentences and had once been in the penitentiary. As he is on to all the tricks of his trade it is not thought that he will be recaptured.

INJUNCTION GRANTED

TEMPORARY RESTRAINING ORDER ISSUED AGAINST LEADING PACKERS.

LITTLE OBJECTION RAISED

Ruling by Judge Grosscup at Chicago

So Wide in Its Scope That if the Packers or Their Agents Continue in Their Present Alleged Uniform Arrangements They Will Be Taken Into Court on Contempt Proceedings.

Chicago, May 21.—The temporary injunction asked for by the government against the members of the so-called packers' combine is now in force. It was issued by Judge Peter S. Grosscup after the close of arguments in the United States courtroom. The order gives the relief prayed for in the bill filed by District Attorney Bethea on May 10. It is so wide in its scope that if the packers or their agents continue with their present alleged uniform arrangements they will be taken into court on contempt proceedings and the burden of proof will be on them to show that they have not violated the order in any particular.

Little objection was raised against the government's petition. Attorney John S. Miller, who was the sole representative of the packers present, pointed out some objectionable clause in the draft of an order presented by Mr. Bethea. These concerned the alleged agreements for credit, blacklisting and cartage. Judge Grosscup thought some of these minor clauses had been made too prominent and he himself drew a form of order that pleased both sides. At the same time the order was entered numerous affidavits and other exhibits were filed for the government.

The courtroom was crowded as it has seldom been before. General Consul Miller sat alone to represent the defendants, though there were many office employees of the packers among the spectators. For the government District Attorney Bethea was the leader and was aided by Solicitor General J. K. Richards and Special Counsel Day of Washington and Assistant District Attorneys Morrison, Pagin and Davis.

District Attorney Bethea had read part of the bill before Judge Grosscup interrupted him with the statement that this would be unnecessary, as the court was already advised of the charges made by the government.

Mr. Bethea then filed a number of affidavits. Attorney Miller next made a statement on behalf of the packers and said that while he was not prepared to oppose the government's petition at present, he was authorized to submit to the entry on behalf of his clients.

Solicitor General Edwards made a brief statement in answer to some of the objections made by Attorney Miller. Attorney Day also spoke briefly on behalf of the government. At the conclusion of the remarks the order was taken away by Judge Grosscup for amendment, and later was filed.

Unless the defendants decide to make a fight at an early date in an effort to have the order set aside, they will have until Aug. 4 to make reply to the complaint. Attorney Miller said that he cannot tell whether a demurrer, a plea or an answer will be filed, though the first named is the most likely to be the form of the packers' defense.

The subpoenas served recently on the defendants commanded them to file their appearances separately before July 7.

The evidence presented by District Attorney Bethea, when the case was opened, consisted of a bulky batch of affidavits collected from persons formerly connected with the packing houses that have been made defendants in the suits. The affidavits were 20 in number and the attorneys indulged in a short tilt over the question of whether they should be read, but the court decided that no reading would be permitted until the issue had been slated.

An Important Affidavit.

The most important affidavit submitted is that of Daniel W. Meredith of Jersey City, N. J. For six years he was manager for Armour & Co. at Milwaukee and manager in Philadelphia for three years. Prior to working for Armour & Co. he had been with Swift & Co.

Since 1893, he declared, six general managers for the big companies have been accustomed to meet at least once a week in the city of New York to reconcile the differences between themselves concerning the operating of their business and also to consider the price which they should place for the ensuing week on the meat products sold in that territory, and for the purpose of considering the quantity of meats which each concern had on hand and "when the necessities of the trade require," they would agree to curtail their shipments of meat from Chicago, their design and purpose being to limit the quantity of meats in sight at New York and adjacent points and raise the prices. The affidavit covered at considerable length the manner in which the alleged meetings were conducted.

Tornado Victims Number Ninety-five.

Gallad, Tex., May 21.—With the death of three persons injured in Sunday's tornado, the total number of dead is 95. W. J. Purl, Mrs. John Angerstein and a negro woman died during the afternoon and it is believed several more of the 100 persons injured cannot survive.

Eight Drowned by Waterspout.

Cincinnati, May 21.—At Lewisburg, near Covington, Ky., a waterspout swept away a house with all the occupants and demolished other houses in its course. Eight lives are reported lost and two bodies have been recovered.

BEEF AND LIVE STOCK RATES.

Traffic Officials of Western Roads Meet to Adjust Them.

Chicago, May 21.—A meeting of the general traffic officials of the Western roads was held here for the purpose of adjusting beef and live stock rates between Chicago and St. Paul and Chicago and the Missouri river. It was determined that the Chicago-St. Paul roads should adjust their differences before any action was taken regarding rates between Chicago and the Missouri river. A committee was appointed to check up rates on a basis of 23½ cents on dressed beef, packing house products and live stock from St. Paul to Chicago. The committee made a report accordingly late in the day, but there was so much discussion that no action was taken. When the Chicago-St. Paul rates have been fixed an attempt will be made to adjust the rates between Chicago and the Missouri river on the basis of 23½ cents.

MINNESOTA TAKES A HAND.

Railway Commission Wants Local Packing House Rates Undisturbed.

Chicago, May 21.—The railroad commission of Minnesota has taken a hand in the rate problem which is confronting Western lines. Traffic officials of the Chicago-St. Paul lines have received letters from the chairman of the commission requesting them to not disturb local rates in Minnesota while equalizing tariffs on packing house products and live stock products. The fear of the Minnesota commission is that through rates will be made such as to draw the live stock from the state from South St. Paul, which was not affected by the decision of 1890, to Chicago.

STRIKERS DETERMINED.

President Mitchell Says He Fears No Break in the Ranks.

Wilkesbarre, Pa., May 21.—President Mitchell said he and his colleagues were well satisfied with the movement so far as it has gone. He expected a total suspension of mining and his expectations have been realized. The present conflict, he said, is the greatest in the history of the world in point of numbers.

EASTERN MINNESOTA SYSTEM.

Now Said to Have Been Absorbed by the Great Northern.

West Superior, Wis., May 21.—It was given out during the day that the Eastern Minnesota system will be entirely absorbed by the Hill road known as the Great Northern. The Eastern Minnesota system handles a great amount of ore and is said to be one of the best paying properties in the country.

Two Overcome by Smoke.

Philadelphia, May 20.—A large 3-story brick building at Broad and Vine streets, occupied jointly by Marks Bros., department store proprietors, as a warehouse, and the Pennsylvania Electric Vehicle company, was destroyed by fire. Mrs. Sarah A. Meyers, 74 years old, who resides in a small street in the rear of the warehouse, and S. Ross Rauch, a fireman, were overcome by smoke.

Oil Shed Caught Fire.

Chippewa Falls, Wis., May 21.—The shed of the Standard Oil company caught fire during the day. One tank exploded and the contents of two others containing 7,500 gallons were consumed.

MEDERINE

A GUARANTEE BLOOD—AND—CATARRH CURE

Rheumatism and Gout.

Chronic Rheumatism Cured.
SIOUX CITY, I.A., May 8, 1900.
MEDERINE REMEDY CO.,
West Superior, Wis.

GENTLEMEN: I have been a constant sufferer from Chronic Rheumatism for the past three years, necessitating the use of crutches most of the time to walk. I heard of MEDERINE and got my druggist to order a bottle. I took it according to directions. It helped me so much that I took four bottles more, with the result that I am entirely cured. God bless MEDERINE is my daily prayer. WARREN MOORE.
